This sample of photos, selected from hundreds viewed by JPS, aims to convey a sense of Palestinian life during the quarter 16 February–15 May 2018.

U.S. treasury secretary Steve Mnuchin and Ivanka Trump, the U.S. president’s daughter and a senior advisor, stand next to a plaque designating the interim U.S. embassy in Jerusalem. (14 May, Menahem Kahana/AFP/Getty Images)

A Palestinian man helps an elderly woman overcome by tear gas fired by Israeli soldiers during a protest in Hebron against the opening of the U.S. embassy in Jerusalem. (14 May, Hazem Bader/AFP/Getty Images)
On one of the bloodiest days of the weeks-long protest, an Israeli drone drops tear gas canisters during the Great March of Return in Gaza. Israeli soldiers killed sixty-one Palestinians peacefully protesting that day. (14 May, Mohammed Abed/AFP/Getty Images)

Palestinians transport a man shot by an Israeli army sniper near the border fence in Gaza. (14 May, Mahmud Hams/AFP/Getty Images)
Israeli army snipers lie atop an earthen berm near the border fence with Gaza taking aim at Palestinians participating in the commemoration of Land Day on the other side. (30 March, Jack Guez/AFP/Getty Images)

A Palestinian man reads a leaflet dropped by the Israeli army warning residents of Gaza to stay away from the buffer zone near the border fence during the weeks-long Great March of Return protest. (20 April, Mohammed Abed/AFP/Getty Images)
From a flask strapped to his back, a beverage vendor dispenses glasses of licorice root sherbet to participants of the Great March of Return in Gaza. (13 April, Mahmud Hams/AFP/Getty Images)

Palestinian children ride in the Right of Return bicycle race near Khan Yunis in the Gaza Strip. (26 March, Said Khatib/AFP/Getty Images)
Alaa al-Daly, age 21, who had hoped to represent Palestine at the Asia Games, stands with his racing bike following the amputation of his leg because of bone-shattering wounds caused by Israeli snipers as he participated in the Great March of Return. (19 April, Said Khatib/AFP/Getty Images)

Abdul Rahman Nawfal, age 12, lies in a Ramallah hospital bed, recuperating from a leg amputation after being shot by Israeli army snipers during the Great March of Return in Gaza. (23 April, Abbas Momani/AFP/Getty Images)
Friends mourn during the funeral of journalist Ahmad Abu Hussein in Jabaliya in the northern Gaza Strip. Abu Hussein died two weeks after being shot by Israeli soldiers as he covered the Great March of Return. (26 April, Mohammed Abed/AFP/Getty Images)

Friends of 15-year-old Mohammed Ibrahim Ayoub, whom Israeli soldiers shot and killed during the Great March of Return, pray near his gravesite at a cemetery in Bayt Lahiya in the Gaza Strip. (21 April, Mahmud Hams/AFP/Getty Images)
A shepherd leads his flock in the village of Salim, east of the occupied West Bank city of Nablus. (11 March, Jaafar Ashtiyeh/AFP/Getty Images)

Palestinian refugee Khadija Sharkawi, age 85, watches as a family member prepares a traditional dish in her home in al-Am’ari refugee camp near the occupied West Bank city of Ramallah. Sharkawi is one of more than 750,000 Palestinians displaced during the 1948 Nakba, commemorated annually on 15 May. (8 May, Abbas Momani/AFP/Getty Images)
An employee of the Halo Trust, a British-based de-mining organization, walks near a minefield at Qasr al-Yahud, the religious site on the Jordan River where Christian tradition holds that Jesus was baptized. The mines were laid by the Israeli military after the 1967 war. (29 March, Menahem Kahana/AFP/Getty Images)

A Palestinian student walks through what remains of her school in Khirbat Zanuta, outside Dhariyya in the occupied West Bank. The Israeli authorities bulldozed the co-ed elementary school the previous day. (10 April, Hazem Bader/AFP/Getty Images)